University To Accept Negroes In Four Schools, Donovan Says

Although an assistant attorney general of Kentucky said this week that the Day Law would be invoked, requiring segregation of white and Negro students, Dr. Herman L. Donovan said Wednesday that Negro students will be admitted to four individual schools at the University, effective with the beginning of the summer term.

In order to comply more fully with Federal Judge H. Church Ford's ruling in the Lyman Johnson case, the University president said qualified Negroes would be accepted in the Colleges of Engineering, Law, and Pharmacy, in addition to the Graduate School.

Dr. Donovan said applications from Negro students would be accepted "after they have met all prerequisites and have completed all Kentucky State College courses for admittance to professional schools."

In the Johnson case ruling several weeks ago, Judge Ford declared that Negroes must be admitted to the graduate and professional schools of the University until the state could provide separate schools of equal or substantially equal educational opportunity.

Judge Ford stated that the opinion did not affect the state's Day Law, which prohibits Negroes and white students from attending classes together. He said that segregation is not unconstitutional where equal opportunities are provided.

Declining to comment on Assistant Attorney General B. M. Holifield's statement regarding the possible invocation of the Day Law,

Surveying Camps To Be Conducted

The department of civil engineering will conduct two summer survey camps at Buckhorn Creek in Breathitt County.

Three courses offering a total of seven credits will be held in general, route, and hydrographic surveying.

The camps will be held from June 6 to July 16, and from August 1 to September 10.

Instructors will be Prof. R. E. Shaver, Prof. D. K. Blythe, Fred Curtis, graduate student, and Roger Stark, senior civil engineer.

Approximately 100 students will attend the camp.

Stiffer Penalties Set For Illegal Smoking

Stiffer penalties will be imposed on students who smoke in any of the buildings on the campus where "No Smoking" signs are displayed.

The new regulation passed by the Board of Trustees rules that students found smoking in any of the inflammable buildings will be suspended for one semester from classes held in that building.

The more stringent regulation resulted from failure of the $5 fine to curb smoking.

Ex-Cowboy Professor Describes Life Of A Writer Of Histories

By George Reynolds

Edward Everett Dale, the ex-cowboy professor of history at the University of Oklahoma, has written more than a dozen books on "wet days and Sundays."

Combining a weak voice with a sharp wit, Mr. Dale spoke to student groups twice at Frazier Hall last week. He told of the rough trail from the plains of Texas where "the steak was so tough you couldn't stick a fork in the gravy" to the literary fields of Oklahoma.

He specializes in regional, historical and juvenile books, and recommends them as the best money-making ventures in the writing profession.

One of his texts, a history of the United States, has been used continually in Oklahoma schools for the last 20 years.

His career as a writer stemmed from lonesome nights under the western stars, when he had nothing to do except write poems—poems which were rejected by the first publishing house which read them.

New Career

After gaining an education at Oklahoma University, Mr. Dale spent some time at Harvard and returned to his adopted state to help found the Oklahoma State Folklore Association. The next summer, he banded across endless Indian reservations in a Model T Ford gathering data on the Indians of the West.

During his career as a research professor at Oklahoma, he has trav-

Foreign Affairs Institute Planned During Summer

By Betty Lee Mastin

Dr. Charles Malik, Lebanese minister to the United States, and Dr. Philip E. Mosely, nationally known authority on Russia, will be the featured speakers at the Institute of Foreign Affairs to be conducted by the political science department this summer, Dr. Amry Vandembosch, head of the department, has announced.

The Institute will consist of several courses on various phases of international affairs, public lectures, panel discussions, and a series of lectures on the role of the United States in world affairs.

Malik UN Leader

Mr. Malik, whom Vandembosch cites as one of the outstanding leaders in the League of Nations, will give a public lecture on the evening of June 30 on "The International Declaration of Human Rights." He will speak to an afternoon meeting on the work of the League of Nations' Economic and Social Council of which he is chairman.

Mr. Mosely, a member of the staff of the Russian Institute and Professor of International Relations at Columbia University, will speak in a public lecture on July 7. The subject of his talk will be "Can We Agree With Russia?"

Dr. Vandembosch added that other internationally known authorities and representatives of the Secretariat of the United Nations are expected to give public lectures and to participate in round table and panel discussions. Names of these speakers will be announced later.

UK Men To Lecture

A special course of lectures, "Current Public Affairs and What Can The United States Contribute to World Stability?" will be given by instructors from seven UK departments and colleges.

Hartford, College of Education; "U. S. Trade Policy and The International Trade Organization," Rodman Sullivan, College of Commerce; "Making the United Nations More Effective," Mr. Vandembosch.

Students who register for this course of lectures may elect to receive either two or three credits; those desiring the latter will be required to write a term paper.

Everything Happens At May Day With Ceremonies The Highlight

By George Reynolds

UK's traditional May Day revel turned into a foot race last Saturday.

At least half the student body must have gathered downtown where crowds stood on the curbs almost an hour before the parade appeared.

Photographers balanced on light baskets and kids shinnied up waste poles until floats had passed; then the exodus began, and the spectators rushed toward Stoll Field. But the floats were detoured to the entrance drive and the spectators followed.

Though it was not the chief intent of this operation, the colorful procession passed Alumni Gym, where several hundred high school students saw it. Otherwise they would have missed one of the University's outstanding annual features because they were scheduled to sing at that time.

They did miss the impressive ceremonies at the football field, however, where programs by the UK Troupers and Tau Sigma were followed by the coronation of the May Day Queen, Miss Priscilla McVey, and the recognition of her attendants.

Floats entered by Jewell Hall and Alpha Tau Omega fraternity, announced as winners at the May Day dance that night, represented the Union of South Africa and Russia.

Jewell Hall's Africans, painted and dressed appropriately, did a medicine dance around a choice morsel in a big iron kettle. ATO, flanked by mounted cossacks, conducted atomic experiments on one side of

Alms, Please

An irritating question that's still being batted around the campus is "Where do we get checks cashed?"

Several suggestions have come in for a student bank, to be organized in part to give the Student Government Association something to do.

This plan has several obvious weak points. Somebody would have to take the risk. Management would provide a big problem. The whole idea would be complicated, expensive, and perhaps out of reach.

Plenty of pros and cons could be brought up for the idea, but in the meantime, the question is still "Where do we get checks cashed?"

Surely some arrangement could be made to prevent cold checks at the Book Store, by requiring proper identification and by putting the clamps on offenders through the deans' offices.

Kentuckian Gets Congratulated

This year's Kentuckian staff deserves plenty of applause from everyone for the job they have done on the yearbook.

The amazing thing is that the book will go on distribution next week. For several years the Kentuckian has not been ready until mid-summer, and it has had to be mailed out, which was none too satisfactory.

Kernel staffers have gawked all year at the briskness and businesslike dispatch of their neighbors, and the efficiency of the Kentuckian people is now paying off the dividends for themselves, the students, and the business office.

This year's Kentuckian editor and staff have set a pace that will be hard to match in succeeding years, and they deserve warm congratulations.

Exams Are Ominously Near

It's usually the custom about this time of year to give warning that everyone should begin studying—or is the phrase "reviewing"—for examinations.

But there's really no point in bringing it up. All we can suggest is that if you've got any new method for staying awake while cramming, pass it on to your friends and acquaintances. We could add such inspiring phrases as "Keep cool; this too shall pass even if you don't," and so forth, but what's the use?

Coronation Confusion

About the only thing that marred an otherwise typically successful May Day was the confusion at Stoll Field at the coronation.

A track meet had been set for the afternoon, and as usual, sports came first. Not only were the floats not presented on the field, but the grudging allotment of the time for the coronation and the hurry surrounding it certainly detracted from May Day.

Strict No Smoking Penalties

The new Board of Trustees ruling that suspends any student for a semester from classes in the building where he was violating "No Smoking" regulations may seem somewhat severe at first glance.

But the students who were in inflammable old White Hall when it had a minor fire last week will probably take a second look at the Board's ruling and decide there's a point in it after all.

Typhoid Shots Available Free

With the river and the lake as popular as they are these days, it might not be a bad idea for students to drop around to the dispensary for a typhoid shot.

This service is free. Only one shot is required, and that might prove more than worth it some time this summer.

Cookin' With Gaskin

By Nancy Gaskin

I don't know about you all, but this spring? weather is really cookin' Gaskin this week. This fact, combined with seventeen other people in my room playing bridge, talking, listening to the radio, drinking anything available (including water, when desperate), in various stages of exposure is responsible for this pitiful attempt at humor. It's a rather weepy attempt, considering the humidity, but say no more....

My brain is throbbing.

My head is bobbing.

No sound — no weeping.

No wonder — I'm sleeping.

—The Diamondback, U. of Md.

From the I.U. Daily Student comes this sage remark in a report on the Kinsey report: "In the majority of instances, the population is getting around to the idea that sex is here to stay, and we might as well talk about it. The stork is losing prestige as a result."

Poor fella. Labor trouble is cutting the corner on his market, too.

The music-lover's battle cry: "Surge, Koussevitsky; or Who Drank Beethoven's Fifth?"

Alabama College gathered in Palmer Auditorium to discuss how to "get rid of" the $1200 they made in profits from their 1949 College Night performance. The meeting was called to order according to Roberts' Rules of Order.

There were several suggestions from various corners of the auditorium.

Finally came the vote, which was tabulated as follows: Honors Scholarship, 403; guest house (for visitors, 72; not voting, 50; burn it, 1 (probably from a Communist), and one ballot from a foreign student reading, "No understand." Fine vote.

The students then decided that hereafter Roberts' Rules of Disorder will be used in future meetings.

Whenever I go to a dance, I remember the words of my mother, "Always be nice to a homely boy. For he may have a good-looking brother."

Letters

Dear Sir:

We notice in The Kernel the following: "No bound, complete file of these exists...." You may be glad to know that we have a complete file beginning with the first issue of "The Idea" in 1908 to the present, with the exception of three issues: September 22, 1910; May 25, 1911; May 3, 1916.

We will appreciate your help in locating these three copies. Perhaps a notice in the Kernel to this effect might locate someone who has one or more of these copies. We have some duplicates if you need them to complete your files. I think it was in 1917, after I had collected two copies of each issue, that I gave one copy of each to the Kernel office.

While I was Registrar and since I have been in this office copies have been furnished by The Kernel. I want to express my appreciation for this service.

Sincerely yours,

Dear Miss Editor:

I would like forthwith to register a very vehement objection to a practice unfortunately prevalent on this campus.

Even if it only happened a couple of times, it would still be too prevalent for me.

This is what I mean. When you go to classes at eight o'clock in the morning, maybe nine if you're lucky, you most likely haven't been awake long enough to really get used to being up.

It is nice at this precarious time to kind of ease into the day, what I mean is to avoid unnecessary shocks to the nervous system.

Well, this safe, sane, civilized method of approaching the horrible new day is denied up in all too many instances. It is denied us, and we are subjected to terrible shocks to the nervous system when some wide-awake professor starts pounding and beating on a table.

This pounding could not go on at a rhythmical rate, oh no, it has to be at irregular intervals so that just when we're recovering from one ear-blasting smash we are jarred by another.

And it is the same thing with early-morning professors who feel called upon to shout from time to time in order to get the class attention. If they can't hold it with an interesting lecture they resort to treachery.

I can see maybe how they'd feel with their classes nodding in a kind of stupor, but must they stoop to such methods?

You'd think they'd have a little humanistic consideration for a guy who's trying to sleep.

Yawningly yours,
J. P. and P. M.

Dear Editor:

Last week in your paper some letter-writer wrote a long message about the pretty new fence in front of the Administration Building's lawn.

How could he? Why, that fence is one of the brightest, shiniest, prettiest, and newest gadgets around the campus. It just lifts a man's spirit to see it in the dazzling sun.

Who cares about the remaining grass anyhow? If that writer wishes to see grass I suggest he take a look at the Agriculture Farm.

What's wrong with the fence? It's sure a pretty thing.

Frances White, University candidate for Queen of the Mountain Laurel Festival, poses informally for the photographer. The coronation of the queen is to take place Friday, May 27 at Pineville.

Pulchritudinous Intellect Seeks Mountain Laurel Queen Title

By Sarah I. Shaw

If any more evidence is needed to disprove the old saw about beauty and brains not mixing, an unimpeachable exhibit A would be John Frances White, UK's candidate for Mountain Laurel Festival Queen.

Frances, who will leave Wednesday for the Pineville festivities, has been chosen to compete with the top beauties from a dozen or so Kentucky colleges, and to balance this honor, she will be initiated Monday into Phi Beta Kappa.

Just to make the picture complete, she's also a member of Mortar Board, national women's leadership honorary. Frances was tapped for this organization for successfully handling such campus responsibilities as being vice president of the Student Union Board, vice president of Panhellenic Council, and president of Delta Delta Delta social sorority.

Folks familiar with the usual festival agenda say it's a good thing Frances is used to being on the go here on campus, because the heavy schedule at Pineville would daunt a less hardy soul.

Busy Days Ahead

To begin with, when Frances arrives on Thursday she'll register, then attend movies of past festivals. After this there's a formal dinner, followed by a square dance at which all the candidates will be presented in alphabetical order.

The next morning there's a parade, followed by a luncheon, followed by the coronation. That night things are still going strong with a dance honoring the new queen and her court.

Saturday is billed as a light, easy day of relaxation. The candidates take it easy until morning coffee time, when they and their escorts assemble again to honor the queen at a breakfast. The rest of the day is practically a day of rest, with nothing scheduled but hikes, swimming, sightseeing tours and the like.

The whole thing ends Saturday night with another dinner, where the candidates will receive gifts, and the festival formal dance to wind up the big weekend.

UK Won Last Year

Last year's winner was a University student, Lyde Gooding of Lexington. She tells Frances that there's a wonderful time in store for her at the Festival, says she enjoyed it immensely last year.

UK's candidate for the honor is selected by the Dean of Women, who chooses a girl who will bring credit to the University by her presence at the festival.

Frances is very likely to do that. She's the tall (5'7"), statuesque type of beauty, with dark hair and eyes. She's extremely poised, gives the appearance of a great deal of dignity.

The Spice Of Life

By Jobie Anderson and George Tuggle

Last weekend was a typical spring job...floats, formals, and sand in our clothes...what an act!

Sadie McConathy and Carolyn Critchlow really looked quite clever on the Sigma Nu float.

The Alpha Sig dance turned out to be tops...lots of Gibson gals steppin' around the Lafayette Ballroom.

The Delta dance was just plain knocked out. That two-band idea was a honey, and many nice compliments were passed on decorations. The "Shelta" boys know how to turn out a party-party.

Margaret Yaeger and Andy Clark celebrated the DTD affair by getting pinned. She'll be in the family for a long time now.

Doug Martin seems to be squiring Lela Sherman. Not happened to Barbara Willing?

Hoot Reichenbach was happy over accepting the Jewel Hall trophy for the Suky float. Flush Hoot!

Charlie Whaley and Rubye Graham went celebrity-hounding last Wednesday night at Carmen Cavallero. Everybody was seeing a small splash of charitree at night!

Johnny Hines got a "sooprize" when he found himself on the steps of the Baker funeral home Sunday morn. Glen Stokes almost made the down-town morgue too.

Bill Prichard has set a new swimming record for the Sigma Nu fish pool. That's one way to cool off.

Answer to query...that was not Jim Barlow in the kangaroo's pouch on the Pi Kap float.

Goin' strong till the end of school...Judy Sheets and Gene Scott. How's that for accommodation?

Betty White and C. A. Browning don't know whether to date or

The Delta Zetas kept a horse in their living room over the weekend. What people won't do for company!

Dave Davidson got "way down" on that wonderful Saturday beach party.

Bill Brown took a splash in Sleepy Hollow "crick" a la drapery. Something to watch for: the clever door prizes planned for a series of parties next week.

'Tis rumored that Eleanor Birk has deprived Charlie Whaley of his pin, but that didn't keep him from celebrating it the next night with Rubye Graham. Back to the "Dog" again, no doubt!

We hear that Jim Shaffer is going to board the boat for Europe this summer to look after Jim Guley's interest. How far can brotherly love go?

Student To Visit Hawaiian Islands

Georgia Pruden, education senior, has been selected as one of three Kentuckians who will go to Hawaii this summer under the sponsorship of the Kentucky Baptist Student Unions.

Students selected will work as assistants to regular missionaries in Vacation Bible schools, youth revivals, and summer camps in the Islands. Miss Pruden expects to do most of her work in Vacation Bible schools because of her training in elementary education. She will remain to accept a position as a teacher in the fall.

The UK coed will leave Los Angeles June 10 by plane, arriving in Honolulu the next morning. She will spend one week at an orientation session at Camp Kokohahi before joining a team which will tour the Islands.

BSU's in each state in the Southern Baptist Convention have sent students to Hawaii as summer missionaries for the past three years. This is the first time a UK student has been sent to the Islands to work. Miss Pruden is a member of Kappa Delta 'Pi, education honorary, and has served on the Baptist Student Council for three years.

Bacteriologists Attend Cincinnati Meeting

Members of the staff, graduate students, and 30 undergraduates of the department of bacteriology are attending the national meeting of the Society of American Bacteriologists in Cincinnati this week.

Several of the staff and graduate students presented papers before the Society.

Most classes in the bacteriology department have been dismissed this week.

Jan Cook, an avid St. Louis University fan, says there is really little difference in that school's basketball team and the one that represents the University of Kentucky, an institution located in Lexington, Ky. He concedes, however, that the UK team is faster, cleverer, and are better shots.

Typical American Boy Of 1939 Enrolled In Engineering College

By Bill Mansfield

Ever wonder what happens to the winners of the many nation wide contests that you're always hearing about?

Well, we've finally found a winner! Karl McCready, engineering senior at the University, was the winner of a Typical American Boy Contest in 1939.

In the ten years since winning the contest, Karl has changed his outlook on things quite a bit (maybe two and a half years in the Navy helped); but surprisingly enough, he still has the same ambition—to be an electrical engineer. Karl, who is a member of Tau Beta Pi and Eta Kappa Nu will fulfill this ambition in June when he graduates from the University and starts to work for General Electric.

Motherly pride was the main reason for Karl's being entered in the typical boy contest, for it was his mother who sent a snapshot him to the sponsor of the contest. The judges liked his looks and sent him a questionnaire to find out such things as his hobbies, interest in school, and attendance of church. From the 25,000 entrants the judge selected six to spend a week in New York. At the end of the week Karl was chosen by a panel of judges, which included Dale Carnegie, as the most typical American boy in the group.

The Joe Lowe Company, makers of popples, were so impressed with Karl that they offered him $500 for the use of his picture on their product. This added to the $1,000 he received for winning the contest, gave Karl the tidy sum of $1,500.

What time Karl has left after his studies is spent in WBKY, the University frequency modulation station where he works as transmitter engineer. "Working up at the studios" is what our typical boy says he enjoys most at the University.

Incidentally, Karl has no suggestions to offer about winning one of the super jackpots of today. If he did he'd probably be using them himself.

Cats Maul Vols Twice In Stoll Field Finale

The Kentucky Wildcats, leaders in the Eastern Division of the Southeastern Conference baseball race, added two more notches to their free-swinging bats, downing Tennessee, 5-4 and 8-3, Friday and Saturday on Stoll Field.

The twin-killing raised the Wildcat record to 11 victories against two defeats in over-all competition, and their conference record to 10-2.

Ford Homers

Pitcher Roy Ford won his own game Friday, with a ninth-inning home run that broke a 4-4 tie. Ford went the route in winning his third SEC game against no defeats. Struck out in his first two times at bat, Ford tripled to center in the sixth inning, but was out because he failed to touch first base. Tennessee forged ahead 2-0 in the first inning and led 3-0 when Kentucky finally broke into the scoring column with one run in the third.

It was first baseman Dale Powell's consecutive homers in the first and fourth innings that gave the Vols all of their early runs.

The Cats added three runs in the fifth to lead 4-3, but the Vols tied it up in the sixth.

The score remained tied until Ford's last-inning four-bagger. The Cats out-hit the Vols, 11-5. Hirsch, Hamilton, Ramsey and Ford getting two hits each.

Powell's two hits, both home runs, paced the Tennessee efforts.

Cats Win Second

In the Saturday fray, the Cats turned on their hitting prowess for an 8-3 victory over the undermanned, but game Vols. Among Kentucky's 13 hits were four-masters by Dick Ramsey and Walt Hirsch.

The visitors got to starter Ray Mignerey for three runs in the second, but the masterful righthander handcuffed them the remaining seven innings on just two hits, one a fluke safety to rightfield that took a crazy hop over Hirsch's head. It was Mignerey's fourth conference win without a loss.

The Cats hopped on Tennessee's Ira Pierce for five runs in the third.

climaxed by third-sacker Dick Ramsey's two-run round-tripper. Kentucky's lone tally in the sixth, was scored when Jay Cummins came in on Don Fucci's long fly.

Hirsch's inside-the-park homer in the eighth scored two runs and put the game on ice for the Cats.

Fucci's Hitting .482

The Kentucky hitting was led by Hirsch with three hits, and Fucci, Ramsey, Crosswaite and Cummins, with two each. Fucci's two hits raised his season batting mark to .482 on 14 hits in 29 at bats.

Littleford banged out three safeties and Pugh two, to pace the Vol batsmen, who now have a record of nine defeats and three victories. The two teams meet again this afternoon and tomorrow afternoon in Knoxville.

Other batting averages sported by Kentucky regulars after the Tennessee series: Hirsch (.359); Stough (.320); Hamilton (.377); Ramsey (.368); Cummins (.309); Mays (.250); and Crosswaite (.222).

Student Gets Interview For Sears Scholarship

Cecil C. Burnett, agriculture sophomore, will be interviewed for a Sears Roebuck Scholarship in Chicago Monday.

Deans of the agricultural colleges will name the recipients of the scholarships.

Georgia Blanks Cat Nine, 15-0; Vols Foe Today

The Wildcats will wind up the season this weekend when they meet the Tennessee Volunteers today and Saturday.

Roy Ford will probably take the hill against the Orange and White this afternoon, with Ray Mignerey a strong possibility for tomorrow. Mignerey, UK's leading pitcher, was blasted off the mound in the fifth inning by Georgia last Wednesday after allowing eight runs.

In this game, which was won by the Georgia Bulldogs, 15-0, the Cat diamond players were able to gather only three scattered hits off the hurling of UG's Carl (Ace) Adams, as the winners were collecting safeties.

Dom Fucci got two hits in three bats Wednesday in the Georgia game, which was played at Athens, while Allen Hamilton made the third and final safety for UK.

After Mignerey, Coach Moseley sent in Frank Tucci and Bob Hatchett in vain attempts to stop the Bulldogs hitting.

Outfielder Billy Henderson, who plays halfback for the UG football team, and First Baseman Chubby Jenkins led the winners. Henderson had a homer and triple; Jenkins collected two doubles and a triple.

Cliff Barker of the College of Education, will serve as an honorary member of the Alumni Executive Committee next year for the June graduates, Helen King, executive secretary of the Alumni Association, has announced.

Barker was chosen from a group of seven senior representatives of the colleges on the campus.

The other representatives were Fred Daugherty, College of Law; William A. Stoll, College of Commerce; Roy Wallace, College of Engineering; John Crockett, College of Arts and Sciences; Sylvia Smith, College of Agriculture and Home Economics; and William Johnson, Pharmacy College.

Olympians To Meet Wreckers, Western All-Stars Next Week

The Kentucky Olympians will make what will probably be the last appearance for the "Fabulous Four-some" in Lexington when they play a two-game exhibition set at the Trotting Track.

Tuesday the Olympians play the Wreckers, the Lexington Independent champions, in a game scheduled to start at 7:30 p.m.

Then on Wednesday the Olympians meet the Western All-Stars of Coach Eddie Diddle in a contest which promises to be a thriller all of the way. Only this Wednesday it was announced that the All-Stars had added Jack Kerris, the great center from Loyola of Chicago.

In addition to Kerris, Diddle's team will feature Odie Spears and Dee Gibson, two members from the 1947-48 Western Hilltopper crew; Johnny Oldham and Charley Parsley from the 1948-49 Western team; and Jack Coleman from the University of Louisville among the other.

Except for Kerris and Coleman, the team will be practically the same club which the Olympians defeated twice earlier by the same identical score of 80-65.

Sponsored By Kiwanis

All Kentucky fans of course remember Kerris from Loyola. He was the sparkplug of the Chicago team which stopped the Kentucky Wildcats in the first game of the NIT tournament 67-56 in one of the greatest upsets of the year. Kerris, playing the pivot, tallied some 23 points for the Loyola club in that game.

Both of the games are sponsored by the Lexington Kiwanis Club which will use the proceeds of the games toward its youth program.

Olympian Cage Duets

Tickets for the two Olympians games next week are now on sale. Prices for the duets, which was set by the sponsoring Kiwanis Club, range from $5 for box seats to $2 for general admission. Reserved seats are priced at $3.

Box seats, which were practically all gone on Wednesday, are on sale at Jetts, Inc., 101 East High Street (Phone 103).

Reserved seats and general admission tickets are available at Williams Drug Store, Main and Lime, and Graves, Cox & Co., on West Main Street.

Proceeds of the games will be used for the Kiwanis Home For Boys fund.

Semifinals Of IM Softball Carded For This Afternoon

The semifinals of the IM softball tournament will be held this afternoon on the field behind the Student Union, weather permitting.

The winner of the LXA-SN game yesterday will meet at 4 p.m., the survivor of the Breck Hall vs. Scott Street Barracks tilt, which was also played yesterday after the deadline for Kernel copy.

In the other bracket, Kinkead Hall will take on the winner of the SPE-Golden Eagles fray at 5 p.m. today.

Pitchers Have Hot Week

During the past several days of play, the IM pitchers have really come into their own. Two no-hitters were turned in this week.

Al Pracko, of the Scott Barracks, turned in one of them against the Kappa Sigs, as his team won 3-0, to advance into the quarterfinals.

Ray Zimmerman, Kinkead Hall's swift southpaw, hurled the second no-hit contest on Tuesday against the Triangles. In this game, Outfielder Don (Juan) Hahn clouted a homer in the final inning to win for Kinkead Hall, 1-0, and the only hit of the game. Neil Jones, despite his one-hitter, was the losing moundsmen for the Triangles.

Gene McMurray, of the Sig Eps, did all right for himself as he blanked the Phi Dels, 3-0, allowed the losers only one safety for the five-inning conflict.

Fred Lawson, of the Breck Hall aggregation, continued his fine pitching and allowed the Pi Kaps just three hits and one run as the Breck Bombers won 10-1 last Tuesday.

Dorms Have Strong Teams

Doc Wall's two entries, Kinkead and Breck Halls, are ranked up high as favorites to meet in the finals. That is if the Breck team was able to get past the much-improved Scott Street Barracks 10.

Kinkead Hall eliminated SAE on Wednesday and should be meeting the Sig Eps (SPE) today, as the latter team was a definite favorite to beat the Eagles yesterday in the quarterfinals. The Sig Eps, with Gene McMurray, have a well-balanced team but seem to lack the hitting power of Kinkead and Breck. They are the strongest of the frat teams.

Sigma Nu met Lambda Chi yesterday, and the winner is definitely ranked as underdog in the tournament.

Finals are slated for Monday afternoon.

Students To Present Graduation Recitals

Two graduation recitals were presented by student members of the University music department in Memorial Hall next Tuesday and Wednesday at 8 p.m.

Tuesday night's concert featured Roberta Spicer, contralto, and Jo Ann Talley, soprano, with Rayma Dean Purdon and Mary Carolyn Carver, accompanists.

Marion Stafford, soprano, and George Feierabend, baritone, appeared in the Wednesday night recital. Accompanists will be Ann Huddleston and Martha Jane Stone.

Each concert will consist of four parts.

Home Ec Honorary Initiates Miss Doyle

UK Representatives Win ASCE Contest

University of Kentucky representatives of the American Society of Civil Engineers were winners of the speaking contest held at the joint meeting of the UK and University of Louisville student chapters, May 13 in Louisville.

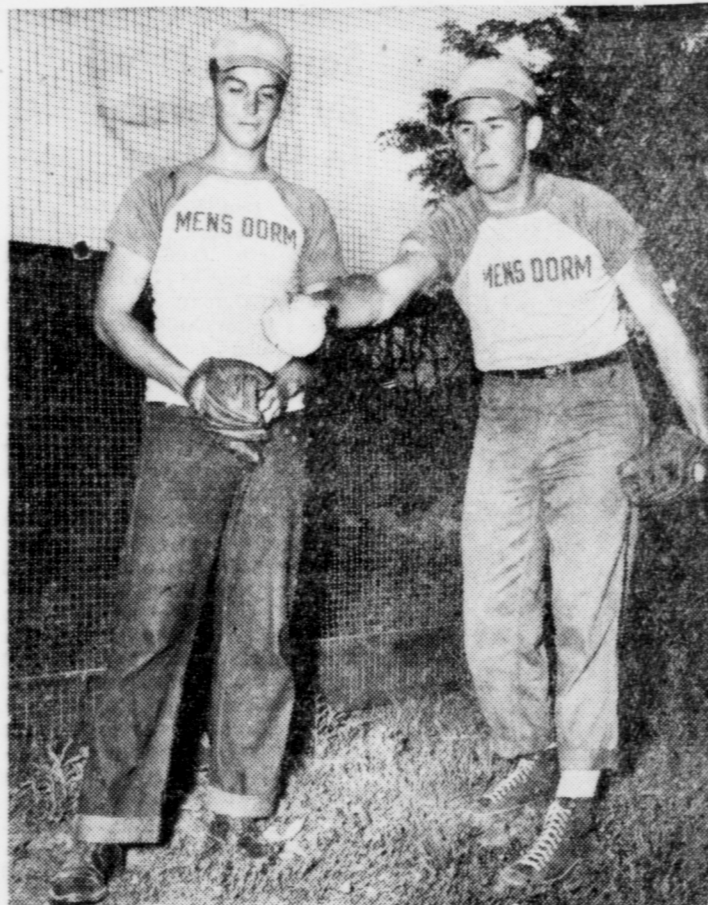

W. G. Witt won first prize with his speech on "T-A-P-Line." H. J. Field Jr. was second prize winner, and J. W. Pochomis received the third prize.

W. G. Witt was also selected as the outstanding civil engineer of the University of Kentucky by the state section of ASCE.

Major Pickett To Report

The ROTC unit has been notified that Major Joseph R. Pickett, Inf., will arrive on campus the latter part of the summer to assume his duties as instructor in the military department.

Swofford, treasurer; Doris Warren, chaplain; Mary Jo Ridley, editor; and Martha Routt, marshal.

Two of the top softball pitchers in the IM softball competition this season have been RAY ZIMMERMAN, of Kinkead Hall, above left, and FRED LAWSON, of the Breck Hall team. Zimmerman hurled a no-hitter Tuesday against the Triangles, winning 1-0, and came back the next day to beat the SAE's, 3-1, allowing them four scattered hits. The speedy left-hander is leading in strike outs for this season. Lawson, the right-hander for Breck, has allowed only two earned runs in beating Delta Chi, Tau Kaps, and the Pi Kaps this spring.

DisKintucky Sports Review

—By Tom Diskin, Sports Editor—

Regardless of the outcome of the Kentucky Wildcat baseball games this week with the Georgia Bulldogs and the Tennessee Volunteers, this season has been a good one for the Big Blue. Their record is the best compiled by a Kentucky baseball team in many years.

The squad's batting average is a healthy .296. Going into this recent series, Don Pucci was leading the team in individual batting with a mighty .482 average with 14 hits for 29 attempts.

Alan Hamilton is next with .377, while Dick Ramsey and Ben Zaranaka had .368. Walt Hirsch was carrying a .350 mark, while John Stough had a .320 mark and Jay Cummins completed the select group with an even .300.

In home runs, Hirsch and Ramsey held the tops with four each, while Pucci pounded out three. For the all-important RBI (runs batted in), it was a five-man race, among Ramsey (16); Hamilton (15); Hirsch and Pucci (14 each); and Stough (10).

Ramsey is leading in triples (with five) and doubles (three) and tied with Hirsch for the highest number of hits (21).

In stealing bases, Hirsch (12) and Stough (11) are tops for the club.

The Olympians game Wednesday night with the Western Kentucky All-Stars on the Lexington Trotting Track should be a terrific game. We were fortunate enough to see the first meeting of these two teams last April in Louisville's Armory and without a doubt it was one of the best we have ever seen, despite the rather large difference in the final score (80-65, Olympians on top).

Very probably, it will be Alex Groza versus Jack Kerris; Ralph Beard versus Dee Gibson; and Wah Jones versus Jack Coleman, which should be worth the price of admission alone.

In the other two meetings, the weakest spot for the Western team was the pivot spot. None of their men, which included Towery, Spears, and McKinney, were able to hold down the high-scoring Groza. But this time it might be a little different with Kerris. Big Alex is probably anxious to battle the ex-Loyola star again. We don't think Groza will be outscored by Kerris this time.

Before leaving this topic, we would like to clear up a few misunderstandings that students might have acquired by reading Larry Shropshire's column Down In Front this past week, in The Lexington Leader.

First of all, Mr. Shropshire was poorly informed as to the amount that each of the Olympians collected at Owensboro. He wrote that "they have boasted of collecting around $1,000 apiece for their Owensboro game alone". The Olympians hardly go around Lexington telling of what each game is netting them.

Preceding this comment, this scribe pounded out another uncalled for sentence. "Basketballers come high, after they've gained big reputations and become pros, even when they perform in the town where they gained their fame and a despite the fact they are out nothing in expenses or loss of time for travel."

Then he adds "Kiwanians say they have agreed to pay the Olympians $150 each a night . . . next week and the players also will collect from the souvenir booklet they have been selling at each stop on their barnstorming tour."

He failed to mention that the Olympians will very possibly net the Kiwanis Club, which is sponsoring the two games, a sum of approximately $20,000 for the Kiwanis Home for Boys fund.

This nice sum is after expenses are deducted, figuring the crowd will be about 4,000 for the Western Kentucky game and 7,000 for the Western Kentucky tilt.

Yet Shropshire questions the little money which the Kiwanis Club is giving to the players.

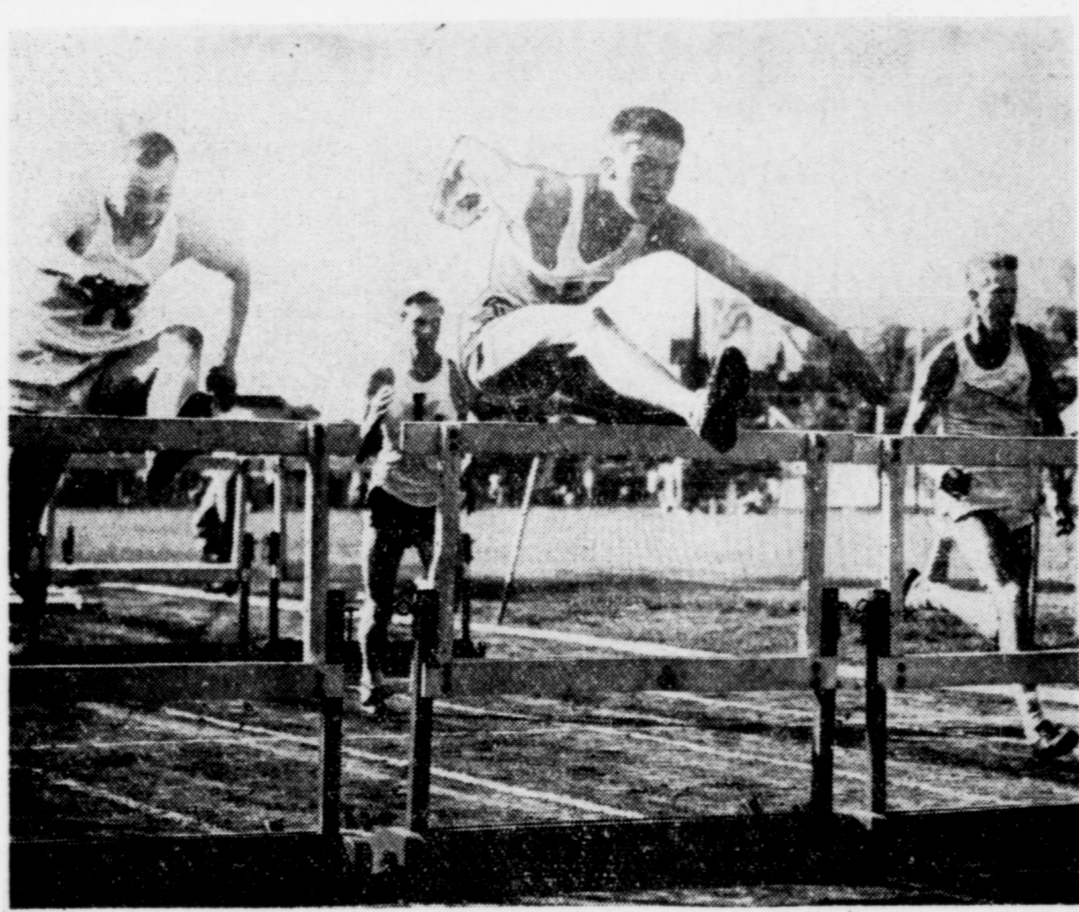

We feel that the sports editor did not give a clear and unbiased report to his readers concerning this event sponsored by the Kiwanis Club.

Air Force Accepting Duty Applications

Applications for a 15-day active duty training period for United States Air Force reservists of general colonel, and lieutenant-colonel grade are being accepted by the Ninth Air Force Headquarters at Langley Field, Va.

Anyone interested in applying should contact Major Edgar L. Kiser, Air ROTC Unit, Quonset Hut No. 3.

The population of North America more than doubled between 1880 and 1940.

The UK track team ended its dual competition last Saturday afternoon by defeating the University of Louisville, 67-54, on Stoll Field. The Cat cinder team will end the season this weekend in the annual SEC meet at Birmingham.

Trackmen Defeat Louisville, 67-54 On Stoll Field

By Earl L. Conn

Kentucky's Wildcats ended their dual competition for the 1949 season last Saturday by whipping the University of Louisville 67-54 on Stoll Field. The Cats' record for the year is three wins against only one defeat—at the hands of Tennessee.

However, Kentucky was rather hard pressed in gaining their third win. They had to depend upon the field events as the Cardinals from Louisville won the track events 40 to 37.

The Wildcats' strength in the track events came almost entirely from the dashes and the hurdle events. Johnny Meihaus captured both the century dash and the 220. Then the Cats made grand slams in the hurdle runs with Tony Dallas, Guy Weeks, and Dale Barnstable finishing 1-2-3 in the highs and Weeks edging out Dallas with Barnstable again third in the lows.

Captain Dallas also captured firsts in the high jump and the broad jump to lead the Cats with 18 points. Meihaus garnered 13 points with his two firsts in the dashes and a second in the broad jump.

Brewster won the pole vault for Kentucky with Distler second. Frank Smotherman won the shot put and finished second in the discus while Gunsten was second to Smotherman in the shot put.

Louisville's Rudolph showed the way in the 880-yard run and the mile for the Cardinals. Noel of Louisville won the two-mile run and was second in the mile run.

The Cardinal mile relay team won that event while Louisville's Bockman won the 440-yard dash.

The Wildcats hold dual meet wins over the University of Cincinnati, Vanderbilt, and Louisville during the year while losing to Tennessee. The meet Saturday was Louisville's second loss in seven outings, losing their first one to the Bollermakers of Purdue.

The meet Saturday climaxed the Wildcats' dual competition for the

Seven Entered By University In SEC Meet

Coach Don Seaton took seven Kentucky Wildcats to the annual Southeastern Conference track meet to be held at Birmingham Friday and Saturday. He took Track Captain Tony Dallas, Guy Weeks, John Meihaus, George Kirchner, Al Bruno, Dick Griffith, and Frank Smotherman.

The men left UK Thursday morning to compete in the meet, while Coach Seaton left for an SEC meeting at Birmingham.

Dallas and Weeks will compete in the hurdle events while Dallas probably will also enter the broad jump and high jump. Johnny Meihaus will be entered in the dashes and also in the broad jump. George Kirchner is expected to be entered in either the 440 or 880-yard run. Al Bruno will enter the javelin throw. Dick Griffith will run in the mile and two mile runs while Smotherman will compete in the discus throw and shot put.

The SEC meet will close Kentucky track competition for the season. The Cats won three dual meets and dropped but one to Tennessee.

Louisiana State University is expected to once again be the power in the SEC meet. The boys from the Bayou country have been the perennial power during the past 15 years.

Wildcat Netters Cop Fourth Win

The UK racquetballers racked up a 7-0 win over neighboring Berea College Monday afternoon on UK's Downing Courts. Four matches have been rained out, including both matches on a southern road trip to Georgia Tech and Tennessee. Both scheduled matches with the University of Cincinnati have been determined a draw on account of the rain.

Friday afternoon, the 13th, proved unlucky for the Xavier tennis squad as the UK netters copied their second victory over that same group of Musketeers by a score of 5-1. UK's number one man, Rayle, had
